

Learn to talk with your baby!

Does your baby tell you when she's hungry or tired?
Believe it or not, SHE CAN!

As seen on NBC, Oprah and in USA Today and Newsweek

My name is Jen Fayne, and I'm an ICI (Independent Certified Instructor) for Baby Signs.
In addition to that, I have integrated baby signing into my toddler classroom at a local Montessori school, where I'm currently employed.

My program gives babies a way to communicate before they can talk! It provides babies with the signs that they can use most easily to express their needs, thoughts, and feelings until they have words. Some ways in which babies and their parents benefit from using this program are:

- Reduces frustration and builds trust
- Strengthens parent/infant bond
- Helps babies learn to talk
- Jumpstarts intellectual development
- Boosts babies self confidence

I will be holding Parent Workshops in a variety of convenient locations around the Denver metro area. In this program, parents have the flexibility to use signs that work best for their family. Baby sign language is about communication, understanding, and intimacy between you and your baby. In the end, whatever signs you use, you are opening the world to your baby and opening your baby's world to you.

To find out more or to reserve a spot at one of the workshops please contact me at jfayne1@aol.com, or by phone at (312) 505-8612.

Private workshops can also be given in your own home.

I look forward to hearing from you and teaching you how to talk with your baby and have your baby talk to you!
